

#WhyICare Campaign & Twitter Chat:

Tuesday, October 18

3:00-4:00pm Eastern / 12:00-1:00pm Pacific

This movement - our movement to end domestic violence - is rooted in social justice and fueled by passion. Survivors, advocates, and allies are all working together, driven by a common goal but inspired by our unique experiences and worldviews. Some are new to this work, others have dedicated a lifetime, but all of us bring value to advancing and shaping our mission; defining and redefining what social change looks like and how we can achieve it together. This October, for Domestic Violence Awareness Month, the NRC DV is asking: What does the movement mean to you? Share your inspiration at #WhyICare, and join the #WhyICare Twitter Chat to help us honor our history, discover our present, and explore our future with renewed passion.

Follow @NationalDVAM and join the conversation on Twitter and Facebook at #DVAM2016 #WhyICare

RSVP: <https://www.facebook.com/events/1763104447288981/>

Questions? nrcdvTA@nrcdv.org

National Resource Center
on Domestic Violence

@NationalDVAM
#DVAM2016 #WhyICare